THE THUNDERER RISES TO DYCE'S DEFENCE

London Times Discusses the Rectitude-Annexation Furore and Declares Ambassador Bryce's Name Has Been Justly Connected With the Matter.

New York, May 8.—The Times in an editorial article on the Canadian reciprocity-annexation furore, and the recent statements regarding which Ambassador Bryce's name was freely used, today had the following to say: "In discussing the actions of an ambassador it is always well to remember that his duty is to represent the government and that the only question that can arise affecting him personally is whether he did efficiently and satisfactorily carry out his instructions. If he did he is completely covered by the responsibility of his government's policy, which it employed him to carry out. If he did not, then the matter rests between him and his government, which has ample means of marking its sense of his failure and which at the same time is the only fair returned and the completest judge of the degree in which he failed."

The Times then points out that if Mr. Bryce was aware of the alleged base meaning of the negotiations as revealed by President Taft, and had warned Premier Laurier of his information, it would have been entirely thrown away as useless as Mr. Asquith's own utterance at the time show apparently that the premier would have been in sympathy with Mr. Taft.

"The question is not in which it is not necessary to drag Mr. Bryce or the people of the United States or the people of Canada. It is really one between the people of this country and the present government."

"Mr. Bryce had been an excellent ambassador, both with the American and the Canadian people. He has done far more than any of his predecessors to make himself acquainted with Canada and her people."

"The American people, as we have more than once acknowledged, took the failure of reciprocity in good part. It was a political deal from which many expected great advantages, but when the deal was off they made no fuss, but simply turned to the business. They and the Canadians are just as good friends as before."

May be Settled Without Arbitration.

Ottawa, May 8.—It is probable that the trouble between the Canadian Northern railway and its employees over the dispute of Canadian trade laws by Americans on the Great Northern railway running into Winnipeg, may be settled without arbitration board.

Sir Wm. Mackenzie wired the Great Northern at St. Paul and suggested that the contract between the C. N. R. and the Great Northern railway, by which the latter is given running rights into Winnipeg, be altered so that Canadian crews will handle the trains on the Canadian side. Sir Wm. obtained a favorable reply and it is expected that the trouble will be settled without the aid of an arbitration board.

CHICAGO PRESSES' STRIKE.

Less Absence Today Than at Any Time.

Chicago, Ill., May 8.—There was less absence today than at any time since the beginning of the newspaper strike. Several dispatches were reported early in the day and a large amount of work was done. A marked improvement in conditions both in the industrial and in the domestic side of the city. All the afternoon papers followed editions, and they were sold in the downtown and outlying districts under police protection.

J. M. Lynch, International president of the Typographical Union, has called a meeting of the local organization for late this afternoon, to consider the strike situation, and decide what action the printers will take in the controversy.

"There's a Reason"

Made by Canadian Protein Cereal Co. Ltd., Pure Food, Fort William, Ontario, Canada.

The gas is gradually mixed with air until the proportion for combustion is obtained. The white flame diminishes in size and loses its white color. Then it returns on to the surface and the gas, which has become red hot. All sign of flame disappears and there remains an intensely heated surface—a wall of fire without flame, from which radiates great heat.

The gas can be retained at 1,500 degrees fahrenheit, according to the rate of supply of gas.

In addition to ordinary heating, the process is adaptable to the heating of furnaces, boilers and melting metal, such as for instance type metal for newspaper purposes.

A variety of combustible gases other than coal gas can be used in the process. Prof. Lavoisier said that his process is economical and easy to control.
